IS THE MCDONALDS FISH FILET REAL FISH?

THE PLUM Miro Meek

Diamonds twinkling and
Silken hair moonlit
Doll-faced and lovely
Porcelain and delicate
Slowly fading youth
Tinged round cheeks pinkish.
His heart skipping fast,
To rose water lips
The prince lifted his glass
And took a sip.

He then tucked a napkin,
Embroidered and pressed,
Under his collar
And over his chest.
He was about to indulge
In something so new,
In front of him lay
A lush plate of fruit.

The colors intense, bright and enticing,
Better, to him, than cake's dull-white icing.
The scents were rich and soft and light,
Like a rustling breeze on a cool summer night.
The prince was both excited and nervous:
But to hang onto worries would do the fruits a disservice.

He'd heard many times about fruits' sweet centers
As well as their sometimes bitter skins,
So he knew to peel a few and wash the others
Nipping small bites before digging right in.

He then found a plum so perfect to him
That he chased the taste, and on a whim,

Licking sugary juice off of red fingertips,
The prince bit the pit and found poison within.

I was shoeless, at the mercy of the waves
The sand was ash, sanctified in its own
I saw the merciless moon, making the waves crash
It wasn't as bright as i remembered it
Why did it bleed black ink... It hurt me
Please, I dont wanna let her go, she's important
To who?
She still, hurt you
She did hurt me, but I cant stop looking at her, I cant make her stop crashing the waves.

Verse 2

And I know everyone has there own different problems
And I gotta stop forcing myself to fucking solve em
I want everyone to win there's so much happening
Tryna be better but I'm addicted to sin
Sometimes I need sec to sit down and think
And I promise it's not cuz I had a lot to drink

STONKS

BY ~~Stella~~

Bella Starz

My story started like most stories. I was borne from a womb--my mother's specifically. I didn't know much when I was born. I cried a lot, I drank a lot of milk--of course--a popular baby dish. Everything is a blur after that. But I vividly remember my first day of kindergarden. Primarily how disappointed I was to find out they didn't teach us to trade stocks!

So I asked my mommy "Oh Mother! Why do they not inquire us of the stock market at our prime time of learning?" And what my mother said next has been turning in my mind ever since.

"Oh little Stella" she was from the south, so she had a drawl. "School is for nerds and idiots." So she enrolled me in Stock Kindergarden for stock trading.

Everything else was a blur after that. Before I knew it, I went from a dollariioaire to a gazillionaire (I invented that number btw, bc I'm so rich. Now I'm 34. Here is my morning routine:

First, I wake up at 2am and I immediately go on a morning run around my 50 sq ft mansion in the middle of Rhode Island. Then, I eat my breakfast, which is a single head of broccoli and a pound of coleslaw. And then I got *on my second run of the day. And then after that, I go on my third run of the day. And then I spend 5 hours looking at the stock market and trading stocks. This makes me a lot of money.

And then I invite myself into RISD college and make fun of all the artists for having hobbies and being happy with their lives.

And then I go for my fourth run of the day. And then I train in my personal gym. The runs are very long btw. And then I take a 3 minute shower. I smell like roses and cherries.

Anyways, after my sixth run of the day, at 7pm, I go to bed and get ready for the next day. That's how it ends.

TWO fish, a swordfish and a sunfish simultaneously depart Reef A and Reef B. Both reefs are 252.5 miles apart. The swordfish is moving at 124.7 mph towards Reef B, and the sunfish is moving at 253.5 mph towards Reef A. If both fish depart at 10:00 AM and it is now 10:08 AM, how much longer until both fish pass each other?

Take $\approx Z \approx$
 V_0 [Sf moving at 124.7 mph
 Su moving at 253.5 mph]
 Y_0 [Sf at 0
 Su at 252.5] Reef A = 0
 $S_f(t) = 124.7t$
 $S_u(t) = -253.5t + 252.5$

Nah, I ain't perfect
Snakes in the grass, I see the serpents
Roll up, face one and it wasn't working
TiI I found a different purpose
Go ahead, ask 'bout my sins
I could tell you it wasn't worth it
2025 seeing through a different lens
Now it's looking picture perfect
Ha, I'll tell you one thing, just this one thing
Nothing ever felt as good as when I stopped indulging sin
Had to give it up to Jesus, it wasn't coincidence
When I saw repentance I just let my past be what it is

I'm a born sinner to go head tell you the truth
Had to seek forgiveness for myself and other people too
I couldn't do it on my own, the only way was trusting you
Baby, this a lifestyle, now I gotta see it through

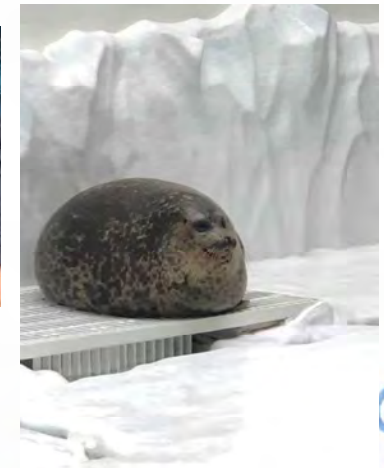

And I'ma do it too
Jump in that word like a swimming pool
Don't condone sin, no it's not that cool
But that Jesus guy, he's a real cool dude
Believe what you want, I'm not tryna be rude
But, Jesus is coming, he's coming real soon
He loves me and he loves you too
Read the bible if you don't think it's true
Told him I was lost
Cup runneth over, holy, like Voss
How you pay for all my sins?
He ain't worried 'bout the cost
My lord say I got a cause
And that's why I wear my cross
Give it all to my lord, to my god, what I say, I

All in the past, I can't change what it's been Got that spirit in me, tryna kill all my sins
All my burdens, all of my fears and my worries
Giving it up 'cause I'm trusting in him
Hitting that boy with a combo, left, right, up, down
Go get him gone, he ain't coming again
Enemy all in my section, this word is my weapon, we getting to stepping
Got God on my side and none of my demons can hide
I'm tired of giving 'em leverage
Devil a lie, said to my old self, "Die"
Told him it's right where it's ending
Spreading the word, yeah, I told all my boys 'bout the blessings
'Cause 'bout this I'll never be selfish
I got a God to serve, no, my life ain't perfect
I'm playing the cards I was dealt with
Ugh, drama got me like, "Ugh"
Stuck in my ways like, "Ugh"
Temptation got me like, "Ugh"
Trials and trials, gimme a break
I'ma break every chain, no, no, I can't be the same
Praise his name, kill my vain
Keep your opinion, don't care what you think 'cause

No, I ain't perfect
Snakes in the grass, I see the serpents
Roll up, face one and it wasn't working
TiI I found a different purpose
Go ahead, ask 'bout my sins
I could tell you it wasn't worth it
