... WOW. CRISTOFURETTI'S NO-MOBILE 'Z COOL, AZNNIT?

SAY GOODBYE TO HER FOR NOW.

YOU'LL BE LEARNING ABOUT ORBITAL MECHANICS WITH US.

CHAPTER 2.5 MICE ON MERCURY

... SO YOU WANNA LEARN ORBITAL MECHANICS??

NO THEY DONT, JERRY.

IFORCED THEM TO COME HERE.

OH.

ORBITAL MECHANICS BEGINS WITH "RETROGRADE" & "PROGRADE." THESE TWO VECTORS DESCRIBE THE ORIENTATION OF THE ROCKET (OR SPACESHIP) COMPARED TO THE DIRECTION IT ORBITS - OR ZIPS AROUND - ITS PLANET.

SIMPLY: RETROGRADE FACES AWAY FROM THE DIRECTION OF TRAVEL;

PROGRADE FACES TOWARD IT.

hello world. today i saw a red fish it was very bred, i tried to pick it up. As soon as i did, it swam away. I was very sad :(. Later on in the day, as i was walking through the mossy rocks, i saw a bear with a mushroom growing on the top of his head. I was like "hello mr bear, how are you?" but then it growled at me and then it bit me. I was so sad. But it is okay because right after it bit me it started foaming at the mouth and it died. Update, where the bear bit me the wound look like it had sprouted some mushrooms like the bear had, but i showed the elf at the end of the path and it said that it was normal and that the mushrooms meant that it was healing. Later i um i forgot because i think i woke up on the ground and the fairy elf seemed to have turned into a deaderat. I am not feeling so well, The dear keep trying to speak with me but i do not listen my mommy always said "look out for the devils children, they get you in the most mysterious ways. Maybe that is why she joined that cult, she was always looking for ways to protect her self. ...that was the last i saw of her ... she chose them... was i not enough by life i dont feel good because my eyes are filled with mushrooms sss...mommy please come back... you were supposed to save me.. you are my cure...

 i cant feel my arms, it was the bear... i am not naive anymore. I think my mind can remember the way to her land. My mind has been liberated, i feel not myself. Was I wilted before? I understand my purpose now ^{now}. Mother.. Your offspring has returned for youuuu

ferns

God has created some of us like this: false hopes of flying. Sparse green feathers bright without a purpose. There's always a certain way you open up and hug me: pin me to those feathers, neat and self-explanatory like a ritual sometimes the feathers swarm toward me. Greens gorgeous like short blades closer to my eyes. Without intentions of hurting. Beauty is rare. But beauty without malice is rarer. Maybe that only exists in plants: their dull humbleness. Our condescending eyes cannot spare themselves to watch. so i disgarded the visibles of me and joined your chantings. So I'm saying we are but two parts of the same fern. Cut apart, or connected by a short gassp: the moment your feathers break apart the bleak soil, my body plowing with unfulfilled half-dreams of flight. Forever stunned by your falling, failing. Your hopeless feathers are grounded by what sustained you. How you stand proudly on the soil and thrive. How I'm drowning hopefully, just to prolong like rivers. Bodies in the dark: we almost know being seen means surrender. So we secretly keep our souls susceptible to growth. Warmth inside you. Between us. Amber lamp lights: golden dust bursting. Cannot be swept away.

BETWEEN THE ACTS

"The idiot?" William answered Mrs. Parker for her
 "But surely," said Mrs. Parker, and told Giles how crop the rice. "We have one in our village" had made her look. "Surely, Mr. Oliver, we're more civilized?"

"We?" said Giles. "We?" He looked back, and William knew not his name, but what his life had made. It was a bit of luck—that he could despise him, not himself. Mrs. Parker. But not for her the wife. She had not spoken to him, not one word and looked at him with her

"Surely," said Mrs. Parker, looking from one to the other. "Surely we are?"

Giles then did what to her was his little trick, shut his lip, frowned, and took up the pose of one who knew the burden of the world's work, making money for his spend.

"No," she said, and plainly as words could say, "I don't admire you," and looked not at his face, but at his feet. "Silly little boy, with blood on his boots."
 Giles smiled his feet. Whom then did she admire?
 Not Dodge. That he could take for certain. Who else?
 Some man he knew. Some man, he was sure, in the name. Which man? He looked round him.

 is a robot, or artificialy entity more valuable than the constitu ent parts of it's being? Why shgould a cpu, or simply and with o facvt, and (an*) artificial brain, be more valuable than the sand from which it's microprocessors, switchs and dials, were forged?
 One might answer, "demand". The peopelwant robots after all.
 But c value as is (in*) value as a human beinge, more spoeificall ly a "mode" of concious? Is concious more valuable than the substrate from which it exists in, and was born freom?
 Is teh (the*) CPU more valuable than the sad. (sand*). Is the bra real-time observation, and coherence? WEeja /// WHY// Why is the body procalimde "special"? I argue wit is not. It functions autonomously, a definite seperation from a rock, or any other inanimate object, but is (it*) is nmade of matter; Stuff, just the very same. The rock cannot write, but the rock cannot die.

 The human writing this may be able to thjink, but nmayh never '

Kery, the Ghost, Sister of Casper

Once upon a time, there was a girl in a small house.
And then, she entered the basement to find a ghost.
And then, as she wanders, she feels a sense of coolness despite the basement.
And then, a shelf falls to the floor.
And then, she turns around in fear.
And then, she notices in the dusty mirror, the name KERY is written.
And then, she steps closer to the mirror and sees a reflection.
And then, the mirror breaks.
And then, she runs backward.
And then, when she looks she sees a ghost.
And then, the ghost, who is a kid the same age as the girl, but wearing Victorian clothes, says "What's up, Doc?"
And then, the girl looks at the ghost in fear.
And then, the girl screams out of terror, and grabs a nearby lamp (old) as a weapon.
And then, she hesitates to ~~swi~~ swing, too startled to truly move her limbs.
And then, the ghost puts their hands in the air, saying, "I come in peace!"
And then, she asks the ghost, "what do you want?"
And then, the ghost replied, "I just want a new pair of clown shoes"
And then, she asked "A new pair pf clown clown shoes? Why?"
And then, the ghost replied, "Why? Have you seen my fit???"
And then, the girl replied, twitching to move but can't, "No, but what about your fit requires CLOWN SHOES?"
And then, the ghost suddenly comes face to face with the girl, and she could feel their breath. They shout: "Take me to the clown store or I will possess you."
And then she says, "I'm broke, sorry."
And then, the child overly heartbroken told the girl, "but it's always been my dream to be a clown, my feet are so small"
"What will I get in treturn if I help you?"
"Infinite powe--"
"Nah."
"Why not? Whatever you wish for, desire for, I'll give!"
ZAnd then, the girl brought the ghost tã her car.
And then, she said, "I'm going to take you to my friend's house and see if they can see you, too. If they can, I'll take you to the clown store."

And then, she continued, "If not, you are going to find out what familydollar is"
They arrive at her friend's house.
The friend steps outside, looks at the ghost, and says "why'd you bring your dog?"
The ghost appeared furious as these words were spoken, "Dog? Me?!" yet it only came out in barks given the friend's perspective.
"Dog?" the girl repeated, but immediately xhanged her response to: "yeah ... my dog."
And then, her friend said "Aww, it's so cute! When did you get it?"
Puzzled and annoyed the girl quickly tells her friend she only had a cat and drove off befofe a reply
They drive to family dollar looking around for clown shoes.
Unfortunately, white they are driving, they hear the blare of police sirens.
"I", INNOCENT!" the ghost immediately ye;lled.

(to be continued...)

station of love

Your a station of love
A train to where I want to be and things I want to see
All amenities of care, comfort and drive
Without you I know not where to go
In this place so small
With you I want to travel the world
Maybe even see the stars
For staying here prevents us from seeing it all
From dreams to cheesy laughters
With you I feel its worth it all
Our love connection is one not many have
One which was earned
To me this love feels so real
My heart is rushed my blood is pumped
For you I'd risk it all
My love connection for you so strong
Not like any other, like any other at all love Love, loving Love

ALANYS TEVARES

For a long time, I thought love was a feeling.
A feeling that could come and go away just like that.
Then I discovered that love is you and love is me too.
I had searched and searched when eventually I found,
I could love you close in my arms and I could love you from afar.
You see, love is transcendent, irregular, constant, flowing, everlasting,
Because it is you.
I can love you so deeply because I love me too.

THE BIRD OF HERMES

The Bird of Hermes is my name

Eat my wings to keep me tame

From the bodies blood is shed

Soon the ghouls become undead

The Bird of Hermes is my name comes soon

Not morning, evening or afternoon

The Bird of Hermes feeds on fright

Soon blood shall stain the night

The Bird of Hermes will devour

His enemies at midnight hour

The Bird of Hermes is my name

Eat my wings to keep me tame

Soon the night shall be stained with red

You and your army lay dead

The Bird of Hermes

The Bird of Hermes is my name

Soon the ghouls become undead

The Bird of Hermes comes soon

not mornig mon morning, evening or aftern noon

The bird of Hermes feeds on fright

Soon blood shall stain the night

The Bird of Hermes will devour

His enemies at midnight hour

The Bird of Hermes is my name

Eat my wings to keep me tame

The b night shall soon be stained with red

you and your army lay bleeding and dead

Your bodies shall rise soon

And join The Bird's platoon
